Classroom Cut ups

I think you know it's unbelieveable! Joy Anne not giggling!

"Who said I needed Scope?"

"Who said I wasn't obeying the skirt length policy?"

We're dreaming of a white Christmas! Wet girls, and lots of slushy snowballs!

Doing the "Monster Mash"?

What'sa matter Jim? Can't you hack it?

Tepee Tenants

What'd ya' say Azzie? You forgot to shave?

VERLE BARTELS working? Aw, be realistic!

Darn hair! Gettin' so I need a "Coach Cut"!

"Who said bananas are fattening?"

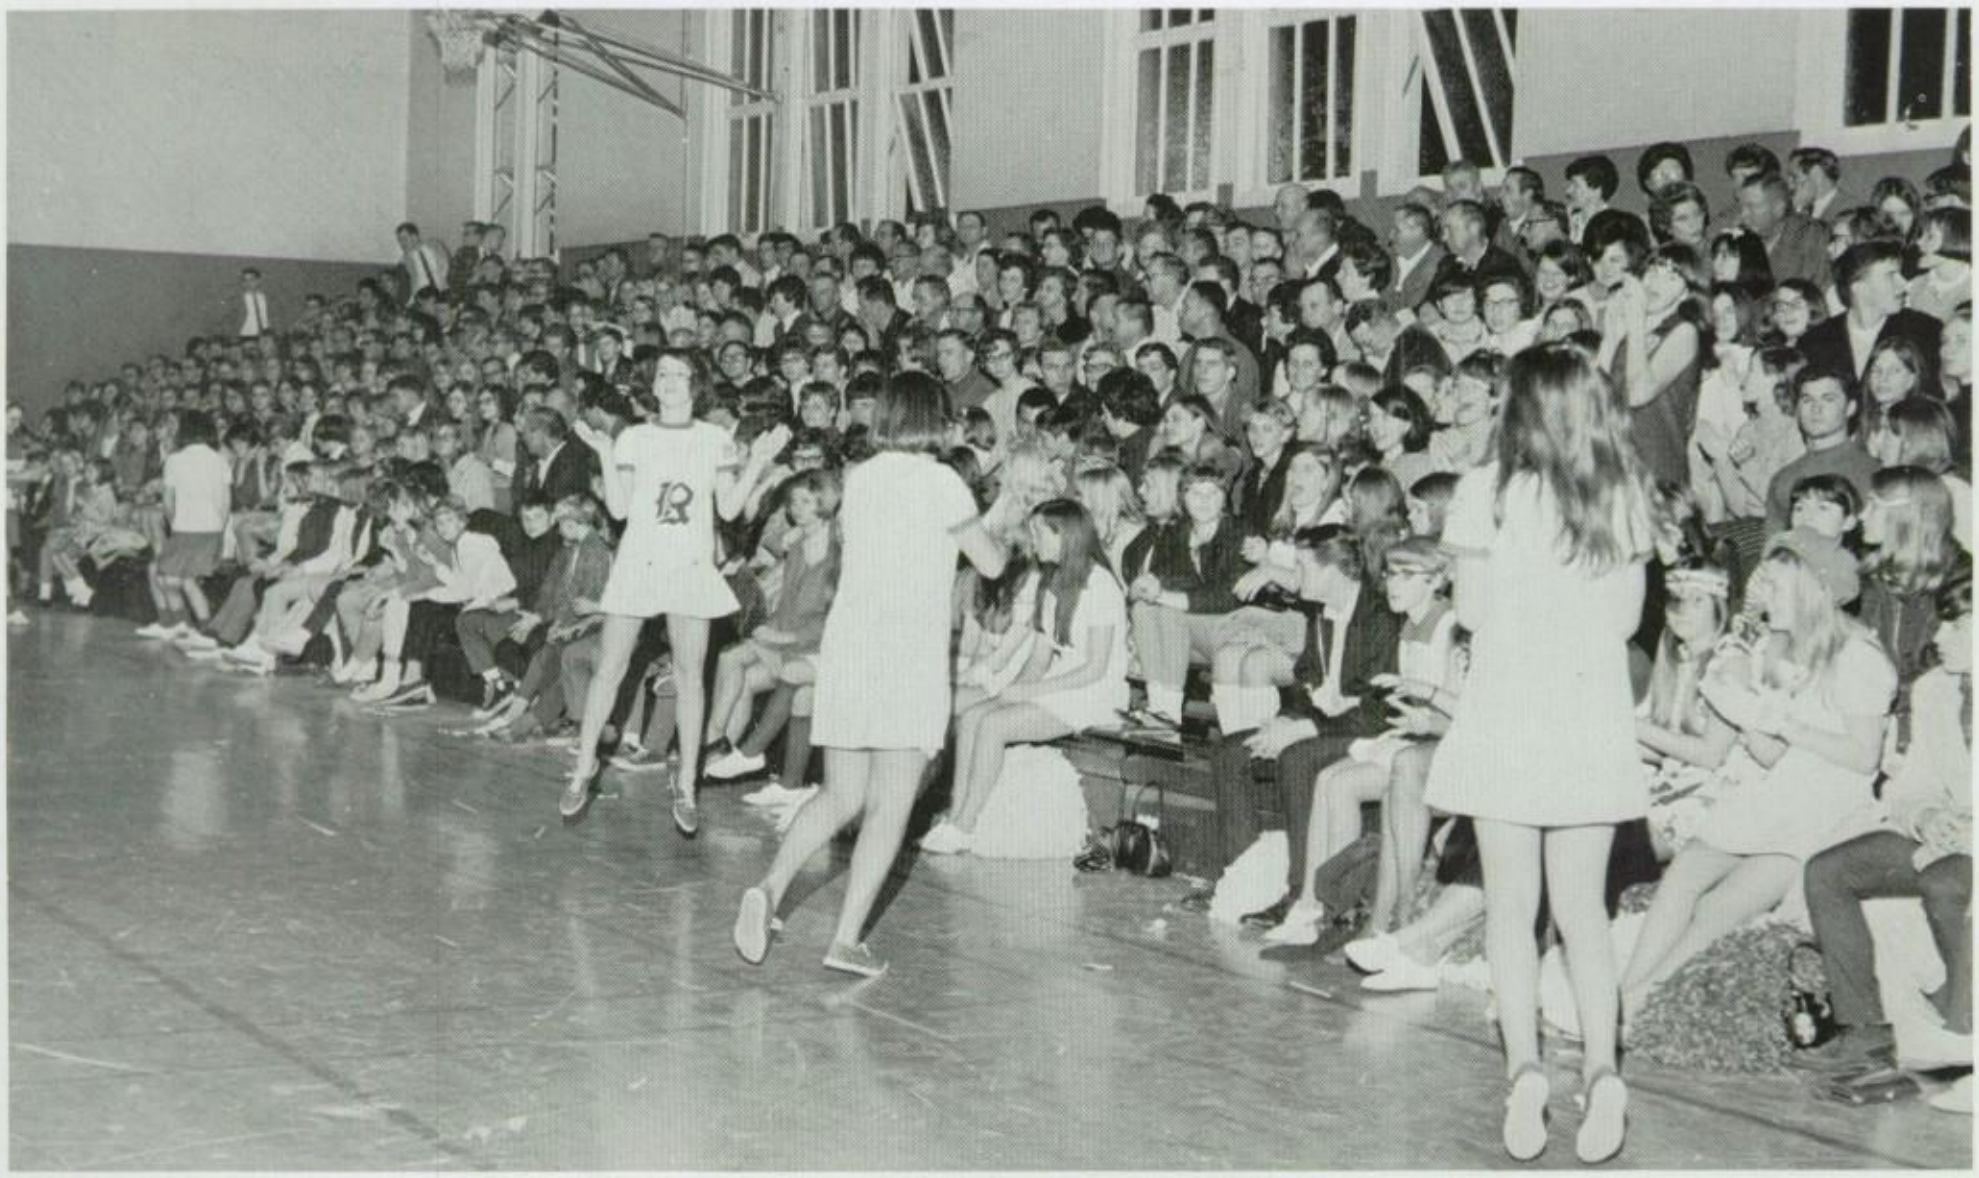
Now where did I put that big blue bomb of mine?

"Yes Cecelia. That's what it is all right! It's definitely a piece of paper!"

Spot check!

What? No drinking men?

Yup! It's a motor all right!



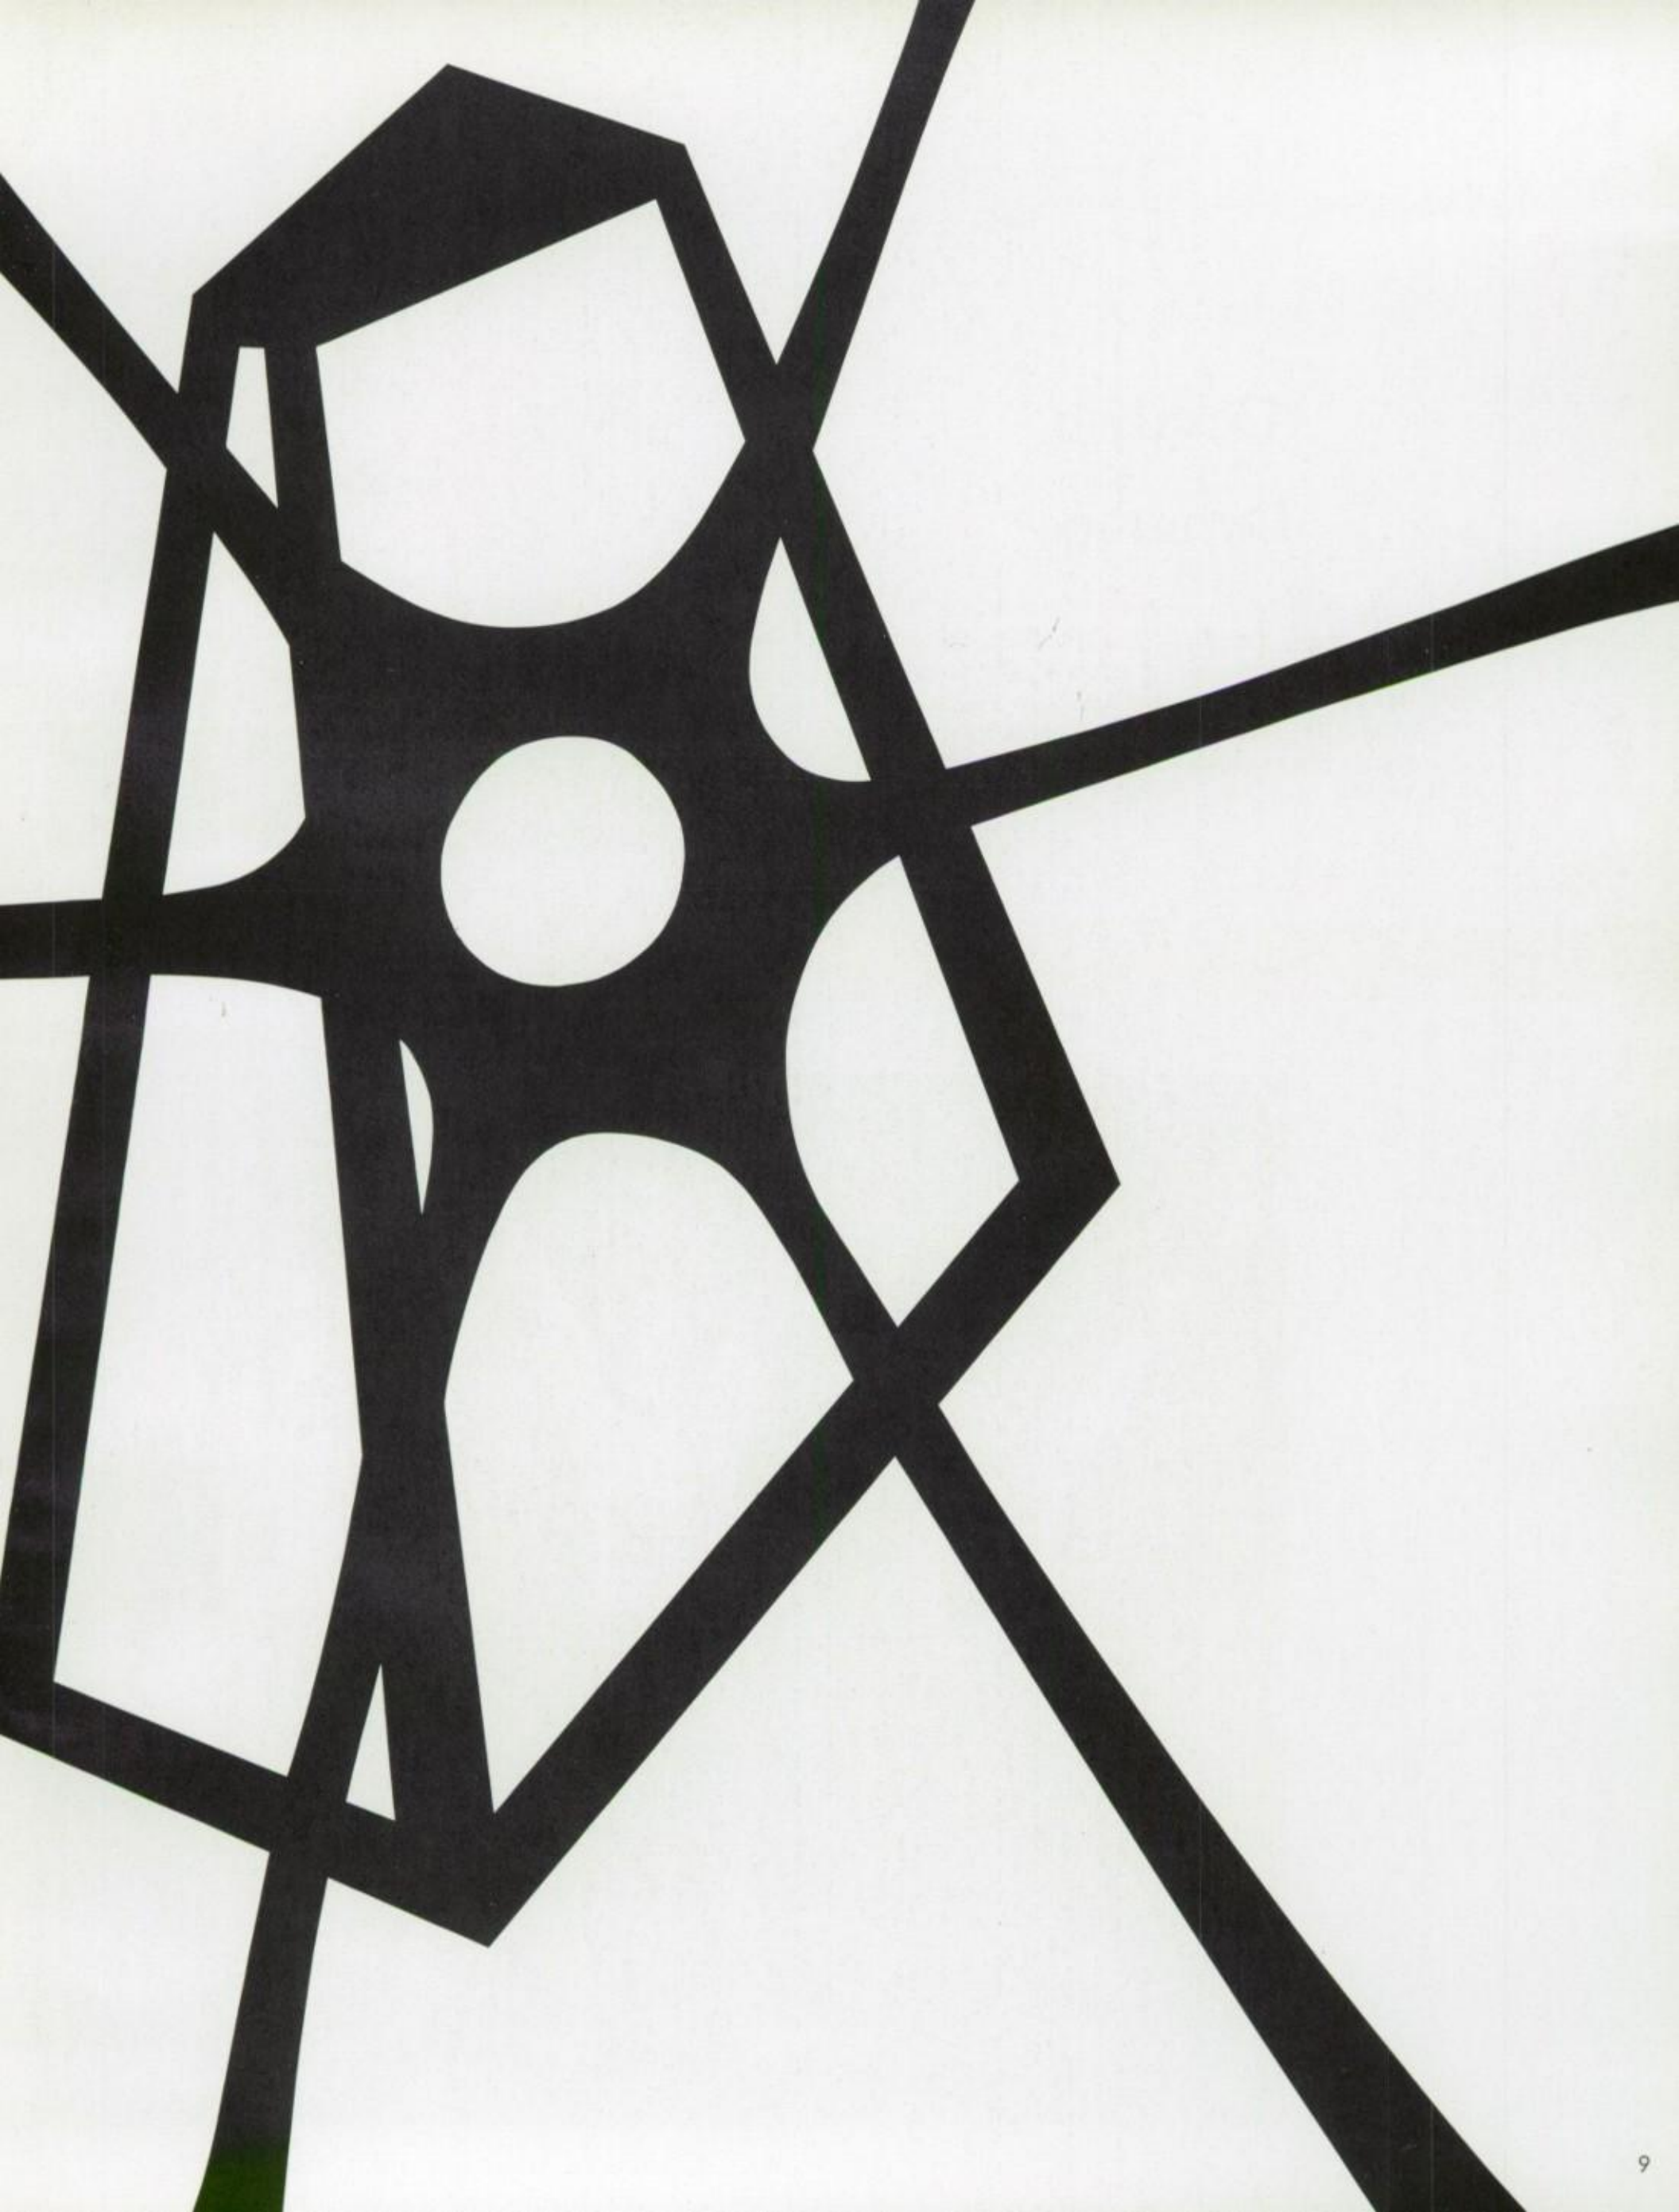
What's that Debbie? You say you're taking flying lessons from Superman?!

How much is that doggie in the locker?

Must be detention....it's only natural to be watching the idiot box!

As usual, Mr. Duxbury's lying down on the job!

Fantastic Frolics



Devilish Dynamos

Devilish Dynamos every one of them! But natch! They're the salt and pepper in this school stew! A little pepper to add spice to our normal days--and a lot of spirit! A real salt of the earth like type! Three cheers for our leaders of 1969!

Christmas Caper

Definitely the "Caper" of the year! And we don't mean as in Al Capone's day!

With the "Rubber Band" on hand, a beautiful decor and lots of gyrating gorgeous dancers, Christmas vacation started off with a really swinging time!

Florence and Frank? And who's the little guy with the arrows lurking behind the streamers?

Tell us Joe, does Carol really use toilet water instead of cologne?

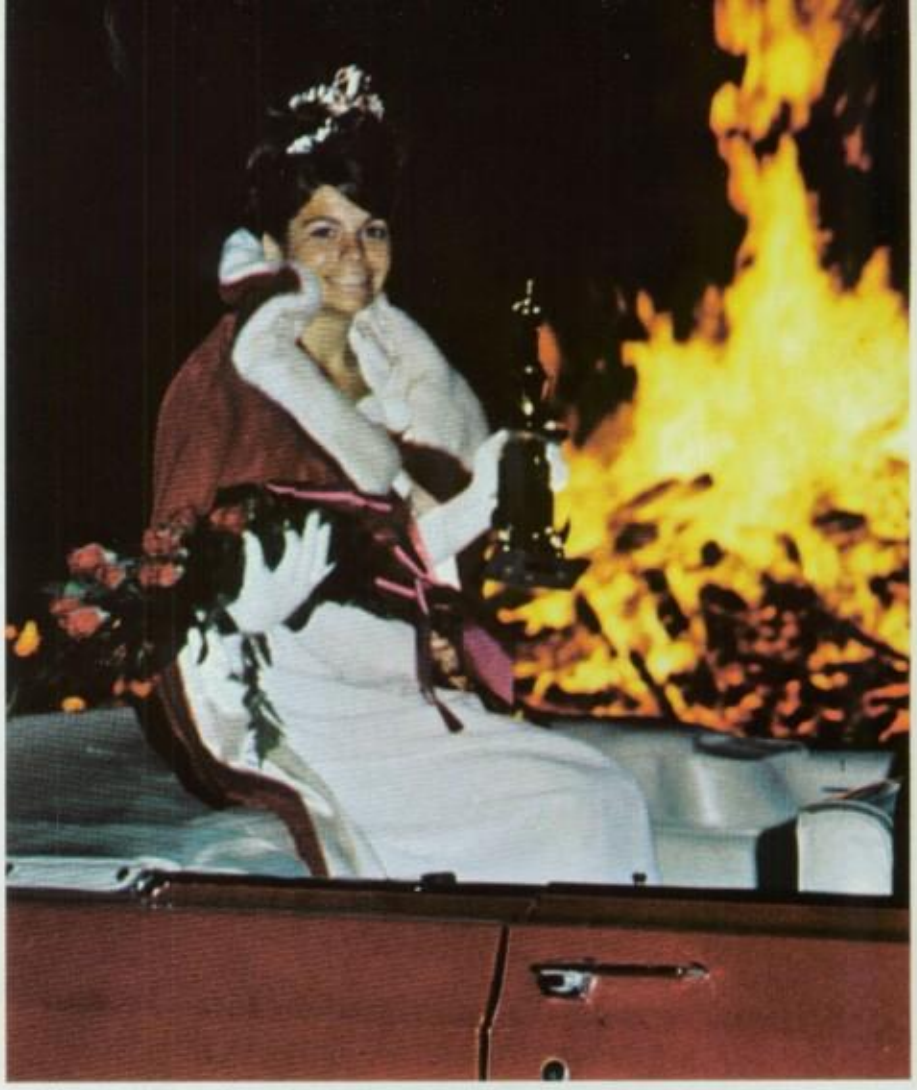
Hark! 'Tis the HO HO HO of Old Saint Nick I hear!

That's a NO NO Tom!

Homecoming 1969

Keep your mind on 1969! 1969, the year that pretty little Joanne Machado reigned as queen over the Homecoming activities.

1969, the year that. . . . .like all others. . . .the Senior float almost didn't get finished, and of course, the time the grads of 1970 will never forget. . . .the parade and bonfire planning! This too was the year Señor Laird served as Grand Marshal!



The beautiful people of 1969! Queen Joanne, and her court. . . .Princesses Shelley, Diane, Coreen, and Mary!

This was the year that the gym was transformed into a mystic palace of silver and blue for our queen and her court. . . .for after all. . . ."Love Is Blue"!

Master "Mission" Makers

"Mission"-aries work is not what it's put out to be! You start work in the summer, slave through the winter, and really sweat it out at the spring deadline! Be thankful that you have a yearbook, and pray a little for next year's staff....They will need it just as much as we have!

Head majorette Mary Bodeson.

Mystical Majorettes

Whirling and twirling, with batons flashing, Mary Bodeson, head majorette, has led Ripon's twirlers in a wide array of parades, games, and competition.

With outfits sparkling and big bright smiles Karen and Bev have helped to make many a half time brighter! And the light stepping and sweeping arcs made by Joan, Connie and Susan, will always be remembered! These are the Mystical Majorettes of 1969!

Musical Magicians

The musical Magicians, are better known, as the Brass (Brats?) Ensemble. The Brass has made many appearances at exchange assemblies, concerts, and parties; but their best performance was the one when they tried to climb up the ticket house! They say the top is rather pointed!

Magical Madrigals

Being pretty isn't a requirement, but having a vocal talent is. These girls, are among Ripon High's most dedicated, sincere, and spirited people. Their interest, and vitality has a most contagious effect on the audiences that they perform before.

To be an Indianette, is to belong to an exclusive group....a group of talented, and gay young singers. We salute you!

Christmas Cheer

The true spirit of Christmas, a feeling of inner peace and tranquility, is most deeply felt when accompanied by flowing music. Alto, soprano, and bass voices, joined in singing the story of Christ's birth. Flutes, coronets, drums, and cymbals, all entwined in time's most beautiful melodies.

And what would Christmas be without Santa Claus and Candy canes, and a great big, "Ho, Ho, Ho"?

You know what they say about Karen... She's got the freshest mouth in town!

A not so "silent night."

F.H.A.

The Future Homemakers of America is a small club this year. But size is no indication of quality. Though we're small, we're a mighty group.

We have engaged in several activities, including--sales, trips, and just plain fun. Mrs. Nipper, is a stimulating and inspiring advisor. Encouraging and sometimes just plain 'ole push'in us forward, in hope that we, too, shall be ready for the future.

Senior Class Officers

We are the class of 1969!

We Seniors hope that through our school spirit, activity, and honest achievement, that you will never forget the class of 1969.

I can honestly say that these past four years have been the most memorable years of our lives. And I hope that you, the remaining students at R. U. H. S. will appreciate and use this hall for the reasons that it was established.... to further your knowledge, have fun, and help you to become responsible citizens.

Have fun as we did, and keep up the good name that the class of 1969 has established for you! But most important of all, Remember the Seniors!

Junior Class Officers

As Juniors, the Class of 1970 has shown its ability to handle the responsibilities which come with that position. Traditionally, we bear the burden of Homecoming, King & Queen Week, and the Junior-Senior Prom. Although I sometimes feel that our Class Motto is "Procrastination", we have always gained superior results from our undertakings. Of course, we claim a monopoly on athletes and pretty girls, as we do in the area of academic excellency. By combining our ideas, initiative, and hard work, we have met the challenges and made this year a memorable one. And we anticipate even greater achievements when we become the ruling class next year.

Freshman Class Officers

This year the Freshmen have had a large number of people participating in sports and other activities. In the rooters section I think you will find that we have tremendous school spirit and that we will round up some fine cheerleaders. Being one of the richest classes we have many activities scheduled, because this is the class where it's Happening.

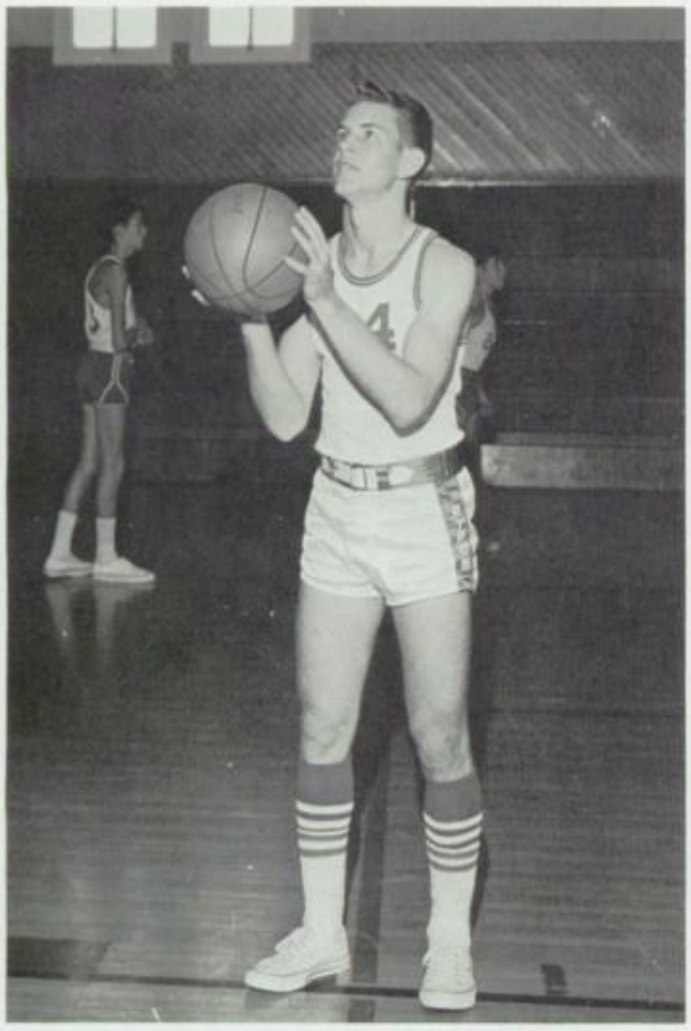
Varsity Basketball

Like the hub of a wheel, Mr. MacDonald is as usual the center of things.

Coach MacDonald has worked and trained these boys so that though they are but a group of individuals, they work, act, and think as one! This is a team to be proud of--their playing ability has been proven time and time again! We thank you Coach MacDonald, and keep up the good work!



Sure shot Robert Heuval.

Incredible Injuns

"Toss it, pass it, we want a basket!"

J.V. Basketball

Coach Hall closes his eyes and says a silent prayer, "Please Lord, give me patience. I've tried to keep Brian from dropping the ball in the basket that way."

If there's one thing to be said for Coach Hall's team--they don't need prayers or ladders to make baskets and win games!

Ripon played some fantastic games with scores so close the crowd almost went wild--but not our JV's! They're always cool, calm and collected! Could it be that they have a "Secret"? Keep your cool JV's of 1969!

"Mighty Mice"

"Jump, jump, jump high."

The "Generation Gap"

These are the people who stew up the pot, and keep all of us bubbling and happy (?). They work us to death and at times are pretty ornery, but we suffer and survive to move on and away from school---maybe to create the bridge between the "generation gap!"
